

*Good Friday Night
Tenebrae
Office of Reading*

The word Tenebrae means “darkness”. Much of the Christian world recalls that around 2000 years ago, Christ was crucified. His followers, were likely in the throws of despair, and their hope shattered. Their Lord and Messiah was crucified and is now laid in the tomb. Christians throughout the world mark this night by solemn prayer. As the service proceeds, the light diminishes just as the apostles and early followers of Jesus saw the light of Christ be extinguished as He endured His sorrowful Passion and Crucifixion

Opening Hymn: Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silent

Let all mortal flesh keep silence,
And with fear and trembling stand,
Ponder nothing earthly-minded,
For with blessing in his hand
Christ our Lord to earth descends now,
Our full homage to demand.

Rank on rank the host of heaven
Spreads its vanguard on the way,
As the Light of Light descends now
From the realms of endless day,
That the powers of hell may vanish
As the darkness clears away.

Psalm 22:2-23

Antiphon: They divide my garments among them; they cast lots for my clothing.

North My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?
You are far from my plea and the cry of my distress.
O my God, I call by day and you give no reply;
I call by night and I find no peace.

South Yet you, O God, are holy,
enthroned on the praises of Israel.
In you our fathers put their trust;
they trusted and you set them free.

North When they cried to you, they escaped.
In you they trusted and never in vain.
But I am a worm and no man,
scorned by men, despised by the people.

South All who see me deride me.
They curl their lips, they toss their heads.
"He trusted in the Lord, let him save him;
let him release him if this is his friend."

North Yes, it was you who took me from the womb, entrusted me to my mother's breast.
To you I was committed from my birth,
from my mother's womb you have been my God.

South Do not leave me alone in my distress;
come close, there is none else to help.
Many bulls have surrounded me,
fierce bulls of Bashan close me in.

North Against me they open wide their jaws,
like lions, rending and roaring.
Like water I am poured out,
disjointed are all my bones.

South My heart has become like wax,
it is melted within my breast.
Parched as burnt clay is my throat,
my tongue cleaves to my jaws.

North Many dogs have surrounded me,
a band of the wicked beset me.
They tear holes in my hands and my feet and lay me in the dust of death.

South I can count every one of my bones.
These people stare at me and gloat;
they divide my clothing among them.
They cast lots for my robe.

North O Lord, do not leave me alone,
my strength, make haste to help me!
Rescue my soul from the sword,
my life from the grip of these dogs.

South Save my life from the jaws of these lions,
my poor soul from the horns of these oxen.
I will tell of your name to my brethren and praise you where they are assembled.

All Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning, is now and will be forever. Amen

Antiphon: They divided my garments among them; they cast lots for my clothing.

Reading:

From the Old Testament Prophet Isaiah
(53:1-5, 10-11)

Who would believe what we have heard? To whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed? He grew up like a sapling before him, like a shoot from the parched earth; There was in him no stately bearing to make us look at him, nor appearance that would attract us to him. He was spurned and avoided by men, a man of suffering, accustomed to infirmity, One of those from whom men hide their faces, spurned, and we held him in no esteem.

Yet it was our infirmities that he bore, our sufferings that he endured, While we thought of him as stricken, as one smitten by God and afflicted. But he was pierced for our offenses, crushed for our sins, Upon him was the chastisement that makes us whole, by his stripes we were healed.

We had all gone astray like sheep, each following his own way; But the LORD laid upon him the guilt of us all.

Though he was harshly treated, he submitted and opened not his mouth; Like a lamb led to the slaughter or a sheep before the shearers, he was silent and opened not his mouth. Oppressed and condemned, he was taken away, and who would have thought any more of his destiny? When he was cut off from the land of the living, and smitten for the sin of his people, A grave was assigned him among the wicked and a burial place with evildoers, Though he had done no wrong nor spoken any falsehood.

(But the LORD was pleased to crush him in infirmity.) If he gives his life as an offering for sin, he shall see his descendants in a long life, and the will of the LORD shall be accomplished through him.

Because of his affliction he shall see the light in fullness of days; Through his suffering, my servant shall justify many, and their guilt he shall bear.

Psalm 4

Antiphon: In Peace I will lie down and sleep.

North     Answer when I call, my saving God.
          In my troubles, you cleared a way;
          show me favor; hear my prayer.

South     How long will you people mock my honor,
          love what is worthless, chase after lies?
          Know that the LORD works wonders for the faithful;
          the LORD hears when I call out.

North     Tremble and do not sin;
          upon your beds ponder in silence.
          Offer fitting sacrifice and trust in the LORD.

South     Many say, "May we see better times!
          LORD, show us the light of your face!"
          But you have given my heart more joy than they have when grain and wine abound.

North     In peace I shall both lie down and sleep,
          for you alone, LORD, make me secure.

All     Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,
          as it was in the beginning, is now and will be forever. Amen

Antiphon:     In Peace I will lie down and sleep.

Reading: From the Old Testament Book of Wisdom (2:1, 12-22)

They who said among themselves, thinking not aright: Let us beset the just one, because he is obnoxious to us; he sets himself against our doings, Reproaches us for transgressions of the law and charges us with violations of our training. He professes to have knowledge of God and styles himself a child of the LORD. To us he is the censure of our thoughts; merely to see him is a hardship for us, Because his life is not like other men's, and different are his ways.

He judges us debased; he holds aloof from our paths as from things impure. He calls blest the destiny of the just and boasts that God is his Father. Let us see whether his words be true; let us find out what will happen to him. For if the just one be the son of God, he will defend him and deliver him from the hand of his foes.

With revilement and torture let us put him to the test that we may have proof of his gentleness and try his patience.

Let us condemn him to a shameful death; for according to his own words, God will take care of him." These were their thoughts, but they erred; for their wickedness blinded them, And they knew not the hidden counsels of God; neither did they count on a recompense of holiness nor discern the innocent souls' reward.

Psalm 38

Antiphon: They sought to take my life by violence.

North O Lord, do not rebuke me in your anger;
do not punish me, Lord, in your rage.
Your arrows have sunk deep in me;
your hand has come down upon me.

South Through your anger all my body is sick:
through my sin, there is no health in my limbs.
My guilt towers higher than my head;
it is a weight too heavy to bear.

North My wounds are foul and festering,
the result of my own folly.
I am bowed and brought to my knees.
I go mourning all the day long.

South All my frame burns with fever;
all my body is sick.
Spent and utterly crushed,
I cry aloud in anguish of heart.

North O Lord, you know all my longing;
my groans are not hidden from you My heart throbs, my strength is spent;
the very light has gone from my eyes.

South My friends avoid me like a leper;
those close to me stand far off.
Those who plot against my life lay snares;
those who seek my ruin speak of harm,
planning treachery all the day long.

North But I am like the deaf who cannot hear,
like the dumb unable to speak
I am like a man who hears nothing, in whose mouth is no defense.

South I count on you, O Lord: it is you,
Lord God, who will answer.
I pray: "Do not let them mock me,
those who triumph if my foot should slip."

North For I am on the point of falling and my pain is always before me.
I confess that I am guilty and my sin fills me with dismay.

South My wanton enemies are numberless and my lying foes are many.
They repay me evil for good and attack me for seeking what is right.

North O Lord, do not forsake me!
My God, do not stay afar off!
Make haste and come to my help,
O Lord, my God, my savior!

All Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,
as it was in the beginning, is now and will be forever. Amen

Antiphon: They sought to take my life by violence.

Reading: From the New Testament Book to the Hebrews.(9:11-28)

But when Christ came as high priest of the good things that have come to be, 10 passing through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, thus obtaining eternal redemption.

For if the blood of goats and bulls and the sprinkling of a heifer's ashes 11 can sanctify those who are defiled so that their flesh is cleansed, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit 12 offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God.

For this reason he is mediator of a new covenant: since a death has taken place for deliverance from transgressions under the first covenant, those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance. Now where there is a will, the death of the testator must be established.

For a will takes effect only at death; it has no force while the testator is alive. Thus not even the first covenant was inaugurated without blood. When every commandment had been proclaimed by Moses to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves (and goats), together with water and crimson wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, saying, "This is 'the blood of the covenant which God has enjoined upon you.'"

In the same way, he sprinkled also the tabernacle 16 and all the vessels of worship with blood. According to the law almost everything is purified by blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness.

Therefore, it was necessary for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified by these rites, but the heavenly things themselves by better sacrifices than these. For Christ did not enter into a sanctuary made by hands, a copy of the true one, but heaven itself, that he might now appear before God on our behalf. Not that he might offer himself repeatedly, as the high priest enters each year into the sanctuary with blood that is not his own; if that were so, he would have had to suffer repeatedly from the foundation of the world. But now once for all he has appeared at the end of the ages 19 to take away sin by his sacrifice.

Just as it is appointed that human beings die once, and after this the judgment, so also Christ, offered once to take away the sins of many, 20 will appear a second time, not to take away sin but to bring salvation to those who eagerly await him.

Psalm 16

Antiphon: My body shall rest in hope.

North     Keep me safe, O God; in you I take refuge
          I say to the Lord, you are my Lord, you are my only good.
          Worthless are all the false gods of the land.

South     Accursed are all who delight in them.
          They multiply their sorrows who court other gods.
          Blood libations to them I will not pour out,
          nor will I take their names upon my lips.

North     LORD, my allotted portion and my cup,
          you have made my destiny secure.
          Pleasant places were measured out for me;
          fair to me indeed is my inheritance.

South     I bless the LORD who counsels me;
          even at night my heart exhorts me.
          I keep the LORD always before me;
          with the Lord at my right,
          I shall never be shaken.

North     Therefore my heart is glad, my soul rejoices;
          my body also dwells secure,
          For you will not abandon me to Sheol,
          nor let your faithful servant see the pit.

South     You will show me the path to life,
          abounding joy in your presence,
          the delights at your right hand forever.

All     Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,
          as it was in the beginning, is now and will be forever. Amen

Antiphon: My body shall rest in hope.

The seventh candle is extinguished

Reading:

From the Letter to the Hebrews

Therefore, let us be on our guard while the promise of entering into his rest remains, that none of you seem to have failed. For in fact we have received the good news just as they did. But the word that they heard did not profit them, for they were not united in faith with those who listened.

For we who believed enter into (that) rest, just as he has said:

"As I swore in my wrath, 'They shall not enter into my rest,'" and yet his works were accomplished at the foundation of the world. For he has spoken somewhere about the seventh day in this manner, "And God rested on the seventh day from all his works"; and again, in the previously mentioned place, "They shall not enter into my rest."

Therefore, since it remains that some will enter into it, and those who formerly received the good news did not enter because of disobedience, he once more set a day, "today," when long afterwards he spoke through David, as already quoted: "Oh, that today you would hear his voice: 'Harden not your hearts.'"

Now if Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterwards of another day. Therefore, a Sabbath rest still remains for the people of God. And whoever enters into God's rest, rests from his own works as God did from his. Therefore, let us strive to enter into that rest, so that no one may fall after the same example of disobedience.

Indeed, the word of God is living and effective, sharper than any two-edged sword, penetrating even between soul and spirit, joints and marrow, and able to discern reflections and thoughts of the heart. No creature is concealed from him, but everything is naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must render an account.

Antiphon: Lift high the ancient portals. The King of Glory enters.

Psalm 24

North West The earth is the LORD'S and all it holds,
the world and those who live there.
For God founded it on the seas, established it over the rivers.

South Who may go up the mountain of the LORD?
Who can stand in his holy place?
"The clean of hand and pure of heart,
who are not devoted to idols,
who have not sworn falsely.

North They will receive blessings from the LORD, and justice from their saving God.
Such are the people that love the LORD,
that seek the face of the God of Jacob."

South Lift up your heads, O gates;
rise up, you ancient portals,
that the king of glory may enter.

North Who is this king of glory?
The LORD, a mighty warrior,
the LORD, mighty in battle.

South Lift up your heads, O gates;
rise up, you ancient portals,
that the king of glory may enter.

North Who is this king of glory?
The LORD of hosts
is the king of glory.

All: Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit,

From an Ancient Homily on Holy Saturday (from the Vatican Website www.vatican.va)

The Lord's descent into hell

"What is happening? Today there is a great silence over the earth, a great silence, and stillness, a great silence because the King sleeps; the earth was in terror and was still, because God slept in the flesh and raised up those who were sleeping from the ages. God has died in the flesh, and the underworld has trembled.

Truly he goes to seek out our first parent like a lost sheep; he wishes to visit those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death. He goes to free the prisoner Adam and his fellow-prisoner Eve from their pains, he who is God, and Adam's son.

The Lord goes in to them holding his victorious weapon, his cross. When Adam, the first created man, sees him, he strikes his breast in terror and calls out to all: 'My Lord be with you all.' And Christ in reply says to Adam: 'And with your spirit.' And grasping his hand he raises him up, saying: 'Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give you light.

'I am your God, who for your sake became your son, who for you and your descendants now speak and command with authority those in prison: Come forth, and those in darkness: Have light, and those who sleep: Rise.

'I command you: Awake, sleeper, I have not made you to be held a prisoner in the underworld. Arise from the dead; I am the life of the dead. Arise, O man, work of my hands, arise, you who were fashioned in my image. Rise, let us go hence; for you in me and I in you, together we are one undivided person.

'For you, I your God became your son; for you, I the Master took on your form; that of slave; for you, I who am above the heavens came on earth and under the earth; for you, man, I became as a man without help, free among the dead; for you, who left a garden, I was handed over to Jews from a garden and crucified in a garden.

'Look at the spittle on my face, which I received because of you, in order to restore you to that first divine inbreathing at creation. See the blows on my cheeks, which I accepted in order to refashion your distorted form to my own image. 'See the scourging of my back, which I accepted in order to disperse the load of your sins which was laid upon your back. See my hands nailed to the tree for a good purpose, for you, who stretched out your hand to the tree for an evil one.

'I slept on the cross and a sword pierced my side, for you, who slept in paradise and brought forth Eve from your side. My side healed the pain of your side; my sleep will release you from your sleep in Hades; my sword has checked the sword which was turned against you.

'But arise, let us go hence. The enemy brought you out of the land of paradise; I will reinstate you, no longer in paradise, but on the throne of heaven. I denied you the tree of life, which was a figure, but now I myself am united to you, I who am life. I posted the cherubim to guard you as they would slaves; now I make the cherubim worship you as they would God."The cherubim throne has been prepared, the bearers are ready and waiting, the bridal chamber is in order, the food is provided, the everlasting houses and rooms are in readiness; the treasures of good things have been opened; the kingdom of heaven has been prepared before the ages."

Closing Prayer

Almighty, ever-living God, whose Only-begotten Son descended to the realm of the dead, and rose from there to glory, grant that your faithful people, who were buried with him in baptism, may, by his resurrection, obtain eternal life. We make our prayer through our Christ our Lord.
